Announcing 2018-2019 Season and Important Changes for Serafin String Quartet

(Wilmington, Del.) August 13, 2018 - Serafin String Quartet welcomes Timothy Schwarz, filling the viola seat for the 2018-2019 concert season, as Sheila Browne turns her attention to individual and solo performance activities. A highly acclaimed violin soloist and chamber musician, Schwarz's musical accolades begin at age eight, with the first prize award for the Philadelphia Orchestra Children Competition. Also an accomplished violist, Schwarz rejoins the Serafins in this role.

At the conclusion of this coming season, Serafin String Quartet will become Serafin Ensemble. The Serafin model is already shifting this season to include a greater focus on varied chamber music configurations and collaborations, as it will in the future.

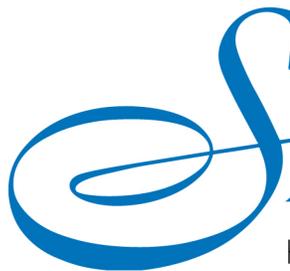

In 2018-2019, the Serafins will present duos, trios, quartets, quintets and more expanded works. Serafin String Quartet will return to The Arts at Trinity for performances in February and May. In October, the season opener for The Arts at Trinity will feature Kate Ransom, Serafin violinist, in collaboration with cellist Guang Wang, of the Vega Quartet, and noted local pianist Jennifer Nicole Campbell in an all-Beethoven program.

Continuing as Quartet in Residence at the University of Delaware, the Serafins will have an increased presence on stage with collaborative performances in October, December, February and April featuring works such as Schubert Octet for string quartet, bass, clarinet, bassoon, and horn, Shostakovich Piano Quintet, Dvořák Bass Quintet, Brahms Horn Trio, and piano trios by Schumann and Chausson.

The Serafins will be joined through the season by UD colleagues including Julie Nishimura (piano), John David Smith (horn), Christopher Nichols (clarinet), Lynn Moncilovich (bassoon), Miles Brown (double bass), and by special guests, Augustine Mercante (countertenor), and Victor Asuncion (piano).

Stay tuned for more news and updates about future Serafin Ensemble performances in the Brandywine Valley area. For a complete listing of concerts, collaborative artists and repertoire in 2018-2019, please visit www.serafinquartet.org.

About Serafin String Quartet

Hailed for "silken finesse and gritty vibrancy" by Gramophone Magazine and for "playing with style and sophistication" by The Strad Magazine, Serafin String Quartet debuted at Weill Recital Hall at Carnegie Hall in 2004 and has consistently received superlatives in the press and ovations by audiences around the nation. The Quartet's highly acclaimed Naxos release featuring world premiere recordings of early chamber works by Pulitzer Prize-winning composer Jennifer Higdon was listed as "Top 10 Classical Albums" by Philadelphia's City Paper. The Quartet's debut recording on Centaur is an "American Tapestry" of works by American composers and composers influenced by American sounds, including Barber, Dvořák, Gershwin and William Grant Still. Featured by Strings Magazine for innovative concert programming, Serafin String Quartet has been applauded at performances around the nation. The Quartet serves as Quartet in Residence at the University of Delaware and takes its name from master violin maker, Sanctus Serafin, who in 1728 crafted the violin currently played by violinist Kate Ransom. The other members play Testore instruments from the same era, thanks to generous support from Dr. William Stegeman. For more information, please visit www.serafinquartet.org.
